CORPUS CHRISTI

This is my Body. This is my blood.

First Reading: Ex 24:3-8

Responsorial Psalm Ps 115:12-13. 15-18

Second Reading: Heb 9:11-15

Gospel: Mt 14:12-16.22-26

CORPUS CHRISTI: This Sunday we keep the transferred Feast of Corpus Christi. It provides an opportunity for us to give thanks to God for the gift of the Most Holy Eucharist in a way that is more joyful than Maundy Thursday. Our second reading, from the Letter to the Hebrews, reminds us that Christ offered himself on the cross as the perfect sacrifice to take away our sins. He is both priest and victim. Christ offers his life to the Father on our behalf. The Holy Spirit unites us to his offering so that at Mass we are present at Calvary. We do not as it were re-enact Calvary but rather transcend time through the power of the Spirit and by means of the outward sacramental signs of bread and wine so as to participate in the one eternal sacrifice offered by Christ the Supreme High Priest in Heaven. It is Christ whose says the powerful words, "This is my Body...this is my Blood", thereby transforming the inner nature of bread and wine so that we receive Jesus himself at Holy Communion, body and blood, soul and divinity. Today we honour Christ's presence in the Eucharist by a Procession at the end of 11.00 a.m. Mass, and, weather permitting, Benediction in the garden before returning to the Church. This will conclude about 12.20 p.m. If you are unable to stay for the Procession, please wait until the Procession has left the Church before going home – in the event of inclement weather it would be best to slip out immediately after the notices and before the Blessed Sacrament is exposed.
