THIRD SUNDAY OF YEAR: Today we begin to listen to St Luke's account of the Good News – his introduction and then the beginning of Our Lord's public ministry, since we have already heard his account of the childhood of Jesus over Christmas. St Luke was not one of the Twelve but part of the larger circle of disciples. This is why he speaks of careful research into the whole story, learning from others, rather than simply going from memory. According to tradition Luke was a physician and very often his presentation reflects the concern of someone from the caring professions. He emphasises the mercy of God and the healing miracles. Unlike the other Evangelists he continues his work with the history of the early Church in a second volume – The Acts of the Apostles. Although they are separated in the printed Bible they share an overall structure. St Luke's Gospel uses as its framework Jesus' journey to Jerusalem climaxing with the Crucifixion and Resurrection. The Ascension acts a hinge linking the two books. Then the Acts of the Apostles reverses the journey, telling the story of how, in the power of the Spirit, the Gospel spreads from Jerusalem to the ends of the earth.

Having transferred all the offers of help on to the summary forms there are 80+ entries with some people intending to help in a number of areas. The signs are good and the Parish Council meeting on Wednesday will appraise and keep you all informed of the next step which will be to form the co-ordinating team. If you missed the chance to put your name forward it is not too late. The areas of ministry which go together to make up the business of the Parish Mission include Prayer, Hospitality, Transport, Art work/Visual display, Photocopying, Ecumenism, Music and Publicity.

GIFT AID: This week the Diocese notified us that our tax claim for the year 2008-2009 has now been refunded: £11,426.53. This is a magnificent sum and reflects your wonderful generosity, not least in a time of financial difficulty for many. Our thanks are due to everyone who contributes through the Gift Aid scheme, and especially Tom McNally and the rest of our finance team who count the collection week by week and carry out the administration necessary to recover this money. If you are a tax payer and do not yet take part in the Gift Aid Scheme please think about doing so. It is a painless way to increase your offering by 25% through enabling us to recover from the Chancellor the tax you have paid on your gift.
